SECTION A - INTRODUCTION

A.1 Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to outline the scope of the Counsellor's services which provide access to independent and confidential counselling at Eynesbury. Counselling is intended to provide support and/or intervention (practical or therapeutic) in order to enhance student well-being and/or academic progress.

A.2 Scope

This policy applies to all current students of any of the programs operated by Eynesbury. It does not cover students in Eynesbury Senior College.

A.3 Definitions

Word/Term	Definition
Academic Director	Manager responsible for academic leadership and management of all courses and programs, staff and students in the relevant academic directorate
Attendance	The presence of students in class during scheduled class time
Child	A person under 18 years of age as defined in the Children's Protection Act (SA) 1993
Class	A scheduled teaching block
Counsellor	According to professional standards and required understandings, a counsellor actively listens and works to empower students to desire and bring about change in the way that they experience themselves, their personal circumstances and/or their academic studies
Intervention	Measures, strategies or practices which have a theoretical and professional basis
Limited disclosure	Revealing essential details about a student's circumstances in order to restore stability, safety and functioning at a time of personal crisis. Disclosure may occur within Eynesbury or to external agencies
Non-award ELICOS	English language study that does not result in a qualification
Orientation	An information day/week that all students attend when commencing their program or course or non-award ELICOS
Program	An approved combination of approved courses in which a student is enrolled
Risk	Circumstances that could potentially be a threat to life, health, well-being and academic success
Staff	All employees, contractors and volunteers of Navitas SA (excluding casual exam invigilators and short term professional appointments such as external auditors or consultants)

A.4 Acronyms

CASA	Counselling Association of South Australia
ELICOS	English language intensive courses for overseas students
PACFA	Psychotherapy and Counselling Federation of Australia

SECTION B - POLICY STATEMENT

B.1 Principles

Students will have access to independent and confidential counselling from a dedicated, professional Counsellor.

Providers of counselling at Eynesbury pay attention to the individual circumstances and needs of enrolled students. In order to encourage the achievement of full potential, counselling addresses personal mental and physical health issues as well as specific learning issues with the intended result that, where a student seeks or is referred for counselling, the student's success and enjoyment of the academic experience will also be improved.

B.2 Policy

1 Referrals

1.1 Referrals to the Counsellor

1.1.1 Referrals to the Counsellor may be recommended/initiated by:

- Self-referral
- Academic Directors or members of academic staff
- Any member of general staff
- A parent or carer, including home-stay parents. (Note: Student permission is required in order for the Counsellor to discuss academic progress or personal issues with the parent, carer or home-stay of any student aged over 18 years)

1.1.2 Any member of staff may encourage students to access counselling without the need for discussion with or approval of others about the students or their circumstances.

1.2 Referrals to other professionals

1.2.1 The counsellor will provide support and therapeutic intervention and may refer for other specialist advice and assistance where it is considered necessary. In such cases the counsellor may continue to work in collaboration with the student and the external agency.

2 Interventions

2.1 In working with a student the Counsellor's approach will be flexible, using a variety of professionally recognised interventions with the aim of empowering the student to bring about change in self or circumstances and to enhance the likelihood of improved personal and/or academic outcomes.

2.2 The Counsellor will liaise with relevant academic staff, where appropriate, in responding to requests for assistance and in the provision of support to students deemed to be at academic risk.

2.3 Joint intervention involving other relevant staff and/or students may also be undertaken in particular situations where the participants agree to meet.

3 Appointments with the Counsellor

- 3.1 It is the responsibility of a student to ensure that appointments with the Counsellor do not clash with class/lecture times, unless in a genuine emergency.
- 3.2 The frequency and length of appointments will depend on the nature and complexity of the issue(s) involved, and/or the point reached within an intervention.
- 3.3 The Counsellor is available during working hours and often available after hours in an emergency.

4 Confidentiality

- 4.1 The relationship between the Counsellor and the student is considered to be fundamental to effective counselling. It is an essential professional requirement of counselling (CASA and PACFA professional bodies) that the confidential nature of the information provided by the student is respected.

Student permission to share information (as detailed above) may not be needed in circumstances as is detailed in 4.2 and 4.3 below.

- 4.2 In accordance with the Child Protection Act 1993, in certain circumstances the Counsellor has a legal obligation and duty-of-care to the student to report any instance of child abuse or neglect when a student is aged less than 18 years.

In South Australia once a young person reaches 16 years of age they have the right to seek medical consultation and to consent to or refuse treatment.

- 4.3 Where the Counsellor believes that a student is clearly at risk or in danger of attempting or completing suicide, is unable to function, care for his or herself, make his or her own decisions or is judged capable of harming another person, external assistance may need to be sought. Gaining assistance may require limited disclosure. Close examination of individual circumstances will determine who should be privy to information.

In rare circumstances the Counsellor may be required to disclose information from counselling case notes to outside authorities.

Where a student is aged less than 18 years the requirement for confidentiality still applies. Individual circumstances and duty of care will determine to whom disclosure is made if at all. For instance, parents will likely be contacted and often the counsellor may share limited/essential information, with other key people.

All students aged over 18 years have the right to reverse or negate previous permission noted on MAZE in regard to releasing information to parents/family.

- 4.4 The Counsellor may, with the student's permission, share information with key people within Eynesbury where it could be beneficial to the understanding of extenuating personal circumstances that impact on well-being, and hence, academic progress and/or attendance. Any member of staff made privy to such information is required to observe confidentiality and not discuss details with others either within or external to Eynesbury.
- 4.5 In accordance with circumstances relating to 4.2 and 4.3 the counsellor's obligations regarding confidentiality and duty of care requirements and practices will be specifically explained to students at counselling where necessary.
- 4.6 All students present at orientation will, where an opportunity is offered, be made generally aware of confidentiality and of the requirements for disclosure under certain circumstances of risk.

5 Counselling Records

5.1 Professional records

5.1.1 In order to comply with professional counselling standards, records confidential to the Counsellor will be maintained with each student's name, the date of counselling, a brief account of the issue(s) discussed and/or of interventions undertaken. Notes will be taken of relevant telephone conversations and/or email discussions relating to a student's situation and retained by the Counsellor. Confidential case note books and/or files will be kept in a secure place by the Counsellor.

5.2 Student records

5.2.1 Where issues are relevant to a student's academic circumstances and/or their attendance pattern, the Counsellor may place a note on the Student System indicating that the student sees/has seen the Counsellor. Relevant academic staff may then consult the Counsellor in order to make informed decisions on the basis of any extenuating circumstances that are able to be revealed.

5.3 Reports to Eynesbury Executive Group

5.3.1 Six monthly reports will be submitted to the Eynesbury Executive Group and Academic Boards. A general indication of trends may be included in order to inform and advise.

5.4 Length of maintenance of counselling records

5.4.1 Counselling records will be kept for ten years except in the case of students who are under the age of 18. In the case of students who are under the age of 18 years, records will be retained for an additional year for each year a student is underage, i.e. 11 years where a student is 17 years, 13 years where a student is 15 years.
